

REAGAN MYTHS: Debunking the Ol' Gipper

Ted: (shaking his head) I wouldn't say all Americans adored Reagan.

Tim: In many ways he was a fossil, yet skilled at acting as if he actually cared about common folks. Though frequently fuzzy about details, he convinced many of his vision.

Kris: Vision? I would say he didn't do any convincing: money did most of the work.

Terri: He should have remained an actor.

Tim: (laughing) Hey, all successful politicians are actors.

- T Newfields

Begun: 1994 in Shizuoka, Japan ≡ Finished: 2019 in Yokohama, Japan

