

Terri: This notion of a western 'show down' doesn't work well in a hyper-surveillance age with algorithms that will spew out enough disinformation to manipulate the populace precisely as leaders wish.

Kris: (pretending to chew tobacco, then speaking with a thick cowboy accent) Fer sure, ol' padner!

Terri: If male hormones run their natural course, I wonder if humanity has a future

Sam: Armageddon is a scenario that should never be allowed to happen. And perhaps the only way to avoid that is to let ethical AI systems take over because humans have badly fucked up. Also, we must unite and come to recognize how deeply connected we are.

Ted: (spitting, then grimacing) Oh yeah! Hee-haw, yack yack!
