

REKINDLE:

Nurturing Vivacity in Life

The sparkle in each child's eye often dulls with age yet with love and tenderness it can brighten again.

The questions of youth often turn into stale dogmas after many days yet with faith and playful questioning winter bark can transform into fresh leaves as silver branches send out verdant sprigs.

Day by day nurture the parts of you that are still young Light a match and behold the wonder Explore new vistas Laugh at death and never worry about the impossible - all great things at first were deemed far flung.

- T Newfields

Beg.: 1995 Rayong, Thailand * Fin.: 2019 Yokohama

