

ROUTINE INTERROGATION:

Some Thoughts about Government Surveillance

Excuse me – before you pass this point I have to inspect your brain

Yes, I am serious – let me state the facts: I'm an agent for the Department of Public Order programmed to stop ideological infections . . .

Don't worry – I scan thousands each day: less than 1% require detailed analysis to make sure there aren't any aberrant ideas in their circuits

Well, don't stand there!
Unzip your forehead please Take this hi-density neural probe

Hurry up – I have a few hundred egg heads to vaporize and a few more to deep freeze

- T Newfields

Begun: 1993 in Shizuoka, Japan Finished: 2019 in Yokohama, Japan

