

How Weird: Out of the Box of Expectations

DIFFERENT PEACE

Discovering balance between passion and tranquility

Gim'me peace within a raging storm
& contentment whun lapped by fire
Let me go where uthers scorn
& discover tranquility in burning desire
The happiness ah pigs & serenity ah sheep is ah little use fer fresh discoverie Take this moment ta explore
Only at eureka's edge
argh we living

Wan-Sze: Isn't this poem is extreme?

Kasim: No, because actually we are always at death's edge – but simply unconscious of it.

Will: I dunno. There's too much fire . . . why not veg-out & relax?

Kasim: No one is stopping you. However, d'ya think that's what this human birth is fer?

- T Newfields

Begun: 1979 in Tempe, AZ, USA ☆ Finished: 2018 in Tokyo, Japan
Creative Commons License: Attribution. {{CC-BY-4.0}} Granted

