

IMAGINE: Envisioning Alternative Earths

Imagine a world poisoned for profit where here anything without a price tag was cut down or covered with concrete.

Imagine a world in which people fought over language, culture, or race and religion became a way of dispensing blessings of tribalism and hate.

Imagine this and look closely at our planet -
see what it is today, close your eyes then dream of what it could be...

Satoru: Some people suggest eliminating humans is the best way to make this planet healthy . . . let's hope that isn't true.

Dmirtri: I think we are meant to be here for now. We just don't know how to live in harmony yet.

Frida: Hey, the whole notion of harmony is a myth – there are only layers & layers of struggle.

Dmirtri: What can I say? If that's what you believe, that's what you'll perceive.
