

FEAR AND LOVE: A contrastive study

Fear is the fabric of torn cobwebs, and thorns of doubt
which tear and shred;
It is walls of worry
which make us dead, as well as the rusty valves of doubt clogging our heads.

Love is like radiant photons piercing past all paltry threads; it is like deep ocean waves through which distant shoals by warm currents are laved.
