Exploring Some Symbols of Peace

Frida : To me, peace is a kind of circle . . .

Satoru : Makes sense. Peace represents some sort of completion, doesn't it?
Often that involves coming full-circle to reach a state of equilibrium.

Dmirtri : (nodding) It is a singularity in more ways than one.

Ying : Yet perhaps we should remember perfect equilibrium never exist in this world. To really achieve peace, it is to transcend this world.
That's why meditation and prayer is so important.
