Explorations on Emergence

Devani : Seeds are small miracles.

Carlos : (nodding) In response to the environment, it is amazing how they adapt. Isn't it fascinating how some DNA manifestations are suppressed, while others are activated?

Brice : ... Indeed. At one time we believed all mutations were random events. Now it seems clear a much more complex alchemy is involved.

Anyia : (nonchalantly) We understand only a small part of the alchemy of life.
